CALLS 'SOJOURN' OF THAW SCANDAL

Jerome Presses Issue to Have Him Returned to New York Asylum.

Washington, October 6.—Asserting that the sojourn of Harry K. Thaw in New Hampshire is a scandal to the state of New York, attorneys for the state will ask the supreme court next Tuesday to advance for immediate hearing the litigation over Thaw's litigation to New York.

As a preliminary step William T. Jerome has filed with the court, a statement of reasons for urging a speedy action, contending that Thaw's interests as well as those of the state, require an early determination of the right of the state to extradite Thaw and return him to Matteawan Hospital where he was confined as insane after the trial for the murder of Stanford White in 1906.

"It is now more than a year since Harry K. Thaw unlawfully effected his escape from the Matteawan State Hospital," declares the statement, and he is still sojourning in the state of New Hampshire to the scandal of the state of New York. It is the earnest desire of the people of New York as well as the officials acting in their behalf that this scandal cease and that Thaw be immediately returned to the custody of the hospital so that it may not be said that the power of influence or means of Harry K. Thaw, or those acting in his interest or behalf, is so powerful that they can subvert the due administration of the laws of the state of New York."

A thing not common, but which should be more so, happened at Music Hall Tuesday evening. When Old Glory was portrayed upon the screen the entire audience arose and applauded heartily.

PRES. FAIRCHILD SPEAKS

He Makes Pleasing Talk Before Warwick Club.

During a smoke talk held Tuesday evening by the members of the Warwick Club, Doctor Fairchild, president of New Hampshire State College, delivered an address on the agricultural work being done by this state with the assistance of the government. President Fairchild also touched on the work of the State College in agriculture and chemical and mechanical engineering. The address was very interesting and instructive, and the speaker held the attention of his audience.

At the close a buffet lunch was served by the club chef, Percy Kelly.

MORE SPEAKERS FOR THIS STATE

New Hampshire to be Flooded With Democrat Orators.

The Democratic State Committee have been notified by Senator Henry F. Hollis that Secretaries Redfield and Wilson, and Senators Johnson, Owen and White will be campaign speakers in New Hampshire during the next few weeks. With Secretary Daniels already booked for this state, the people are not likely to complain of a dull campaign.

The Republican state committee are arranging for noted men of the party to go out against the Democrats and it is apparent that the leaders of both parties in Washington and in the state have their eyes on New Hampshire.

BRAVES ARRIVE IN PHILLY

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Dismayed by the injury to their team mate, "Red" Smith, in the game with Brooklyn on Tuesday, but not discouraged over the ultimate outcome of the series with the Philadelphia Athletics, the Boston Braves, thirty-eight strong, who arrived here Tuesday evening, went to various gymnasiums about the city today to keep on edge for the battle royal with Conny Mack's clan. It had been Stallings' intention to give his men a hard workout in the National League Park, but when the men awoke this morning, a cold rain was sweeping over the city, making out-door practice impossible. Philadelphia fans believe their team invincible, and are offering 7 and 8 to 5 that the Athletics will win the series.

Mad Scramble of People to Escape to Safety

FRENCH MAKE GAINS ON THE MEUSE

(Special to The Herald)

London, Oct. 7.—The fall of Antwerp is hourly expected. The Germans have been able to get their great howitzers into such favorable positions that a bombardment of the city is imminent. This is admitted by the official Belgian dispatches issued at 10 o'clock tonight.

The populace, confident to the last moment that Antwerp could not share the fate of Liege and Namur, have now begun to flee from the threatened city. By thousands they are pouring out over the few roads left open that stretch toward the friendly neutral land of Holland.

TWO MORE FORTS AT ANTWERP FALL

(Special to The Herald)

Berlin, via wireless to Sayville, L. I., Oct. 7.—It is announced here that two more forts have been taken by the Germans at Antwerp. They are Forts Kessel and Brochem. The announcement of their capture says that they were unable to resist the destructive power of the German siege guns.

"The capitulation of Antwerp can be only a matter of a couple of days," the announcement says.

GERMANS HAVE FALLEN BACK "FOR STRATEGIC REASONS"

(Special to The Herald)

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Oct. 7.—An official statement issued at midnight Tuesday admits that the French troops have gained some ground on the Meuse, but the statement declares that on the German right wing, the army of General von Boehn has successfully flanked the Franco-British allies, and has forced them to rush reinforcements to prevent a retreat. "For strategic reasons," says the statement, "we have fallen back at certain points on the Meuse, and these have been occupied by the French, but the situation there as regards the final outcome is unchanged."

FRENCH ARE NOW ADVANCING

(Special to The Herald)

Paris, Oct. 7.—The battle precipitated by the flanking movements of the allies and the counter flanking movements of the Germans on the western front are raging with great violence, according to an official French statement issued this afternoon.

It is stated that the opposing battle line has extended into the region of Lens, 10 miles northeast of Arras, and about the same direction northwest of Douai, while the official statement doesn't state that the French are gaining ground, the prolongation of the battle line indicates that they are making an advance.

LOSSES OF ALL NATIONS ARE ENORMOUS

(Special to The Herald)

Berlin, via Amsterdam, Oct. 7.—Attaches of the War Office today estimated that the losses of all the armies engaged in the great European war has reached the enormous total of 1,760,000 killed, wounded and missing. The German losses up to Sept. 1 numbered 117,000. Since then 23,000 more have been listed, and it is estimated that further losses up to the present time have brought the German total up to 225,000. The British, French and Belgian losses are estimated at 325,000. Russian war officials declare, however, that the losses of that country at 400,000. Austrian losses are estimated to be 125,000, while the German officials figure that Serbia and Montenegro have lost 85,000 men. In making these estimates it is pointed out that there is no reliable information at hand concerning the situation in any country but Germany.

OVER HALF OF WAR TAX PUT ON LIQUORS

Senator Hollis Spoke in Favor of a $2.00 Tax on Beer--Democratic Senate Caucus Raises Beer Im- post to $1.75 a Barrel.

Washington, Oct. 6.—Liquors would bear the heaviest burden of the $100,000,000 war revenue tax as it is being revised by the caucus of Senate Democrats which began work today on the finance committee's draft of the bill. The first action of the caucus was to vote an increase in the proposed extra tax on beer from 50 cents to 75 cents a barrel, to make the total tax $1.75 a barrel, with a drawback of 5 per cent. for purchase of revenue stamps in advance.

The amendment, urged by Senator Williams of Mississippi, was carried by a large majority after Senator Stone had made a vigorous speech against it. A special revenue tax on rectifiers of distilled spirits of five cents a gallon also was adopted. Together the proposed taxes on liquors would yield an annual revenue of more than $10,000,000.

Democrats in the finance committee had agreed to the House tax of $1.50 a barrel on beer, which would yield, at 50 cents over the normal tax, an added revenue of $32,500,000 annually. The further addition of 25 cents a barrel by the Senate Democrats would yield another $16,000,000. With the 5 per cent. discount for prompt payment deferred, the least to be derived from beer would be approximately $16,000,000.

The proposed tax of five cents a gallon on rectified spirits, treasury experts estimated, would yield $5,000,000. Thus the total to be derived from liquors would be more than half the anticipated Treasury deficit caused by the European war.

When the caucus convened the first amendment offered was by Senator Williams to increase the levy on beer to $1.75 a barrel. Senator Hollis of New Hampshire moved as a substitute that the tax be made $2 a barrel. This was voted down after prolonged debate.

After a two-hour discussion, the caucus tonight voted, 20 to 17, to strike

BILLARD SUED BY NEW HAVEN FOR $3,824,147

Meriden, Conn., Oct. 6.—The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company and the New England Navigation Company today brought suit in the New Haven county superior court against John L. Billard of this city and six other officers of the Billard company for the recovery of $3,824,147, alleging fraudulent action in connection with the sale of Boston & Maine railroad stock.

The complaint sets forth that Mr. Billard as holder of the Boston & Maine stock owned by the New Haven road previously to 1908 never had accounted to the plaintiffs for the sum of $3,824,147 in cash held by him in secret trust for the New Haven road for the purpose of concealing the actual ownership.

It is alleged further that Mr. Billard "falsely and fraudulently" claims said sum transferred to him by the New Haven road as his own property. It is charged that all the defendants received portions of the sum from Mr. Billard, knowing that he was trustee and that they have never paid for nor accounted to the railroad company.

The plaintiffs claim by way of equitable relief (1) an accounting; (2) that Mr. Billard account for the sums received by him as trustee; (3) that the defendants account for any sums received by them from Mr. Billard; (4) judgment for the amount found due on accounting.

The entire history of the Boston & Maine stock from the time of its transfer to Mr. Billard as trustee on June 30, 1908, to the transactions connected with the transfer of the shares by Billard to the Boston Railroad Holding Company in October, 1909, is set forth in the complaint.

This history contains the statement that the New Haven road wished to divest itself of the apparent ownership of the shares of stock in the Boston & Maine and transferred the same, 109,948 shares in all, to Mr. Billard "to be held in secret trust for the benefit of the company."

Besides Mr. Billard, the following are named as defendants: Charles F. Linsley, Meriden; Charles S. Mellen, Samuel Hemingway, Edward D. Robbins, Samuel C. Morehouse and Harry V. Whipple, all of New Haven. All are directors of the Billard company. The suit is made returnable in the superior court in New Haven the first Tuesday in November.

Here Are the World's Series Smiles of a Half Dozen of the Boston Braves

1. MANN 2. GOWDY 3. MORAN 4. GILBERT 5. COTRELL 6. SMITH

Would you smile if you were to have $2,500 or $4,000 added to your year's pay? Yes? Well, so do the Boston Braves. Three months ago they were at the bottom of the National League and were still tumbling. Then they faced adversity and now they are ready to battle with the Philadelphia Athletics for the baseball championship of the world. If they lose—and they expect they won't—each player will get about $2500. If they win—and they expect to—each player will get close to $4000, unless all signs fall, and interest in the national game dies out. So you can see why Pitcher Cottrell, Catcher Gowdy, Infielder Red Smith and Outfielders Gilbert, Moran and Mann are smiling.

BUILDING UP WAR TAX

Washington, Oct. 6. Stamp taxes on proprietary medicines, cosmetics, perfumes and chewing gum, such as were included in the Spanish War taxes, were voted into the war revenue bill today by the Democrats of the Senate Finance Committee just before the measure was turned over to the Democratic Senate caucus for approval or revision. The committee added the medicine tax section to make up for any deficit that their original revision of the House bill might cause and also to increase the revenue as much as possible, it being understood that the Secretary of the Treasury would not object if the estimated revenues to be derived should exceed $100,000,000 by a substantial amount. No accurate estimate has yet been given the committee as to the amount to be derived from this new tax, but it will amount to several millions.

Graduated Rates
The amendment would provide for a graduated stamp tax of one-eighth of a cent on articles costing not more than five cents to five-eighths of a cent for more than five cents or less than twenty-five cent articles, and five-eighths of a cent for each twenty-five cents of value additional. Articles included in this list are pills, powders, tracheas, cordials, bitters, tonics, plasters, liniments, salves, ointments, waters, except natural mineral or carbonated natural mineral waters, essences and all similar articles for which a private formula is claimed. Similar rates of taxation would be applied to perfumery, cosmetics, hair oils, pomades, hair dyes, dentifrices, etc. The proposed tax on chewing gum is four cents for each box worth one dollar or less, and four cents additional for each added dollar of value.

No Tax on Chautauques
In perfecting the measure the committee stipulated that the proposed tax of fifty cents per horse power on automobile sales should apply only to passenger automobiles.
Another tax added is on sparkling wines, not otherwise specified in the bill, at the rate to be one cent for pints or less and two cents for more than a pint.
In the proposed list of $10 for general amusement halls, exception is given "Chautauques, lectures, lyceums, agricultural or industrial fairs and religious and charitable entertainments."
Henry May Delay Reopens
Rejection by Democrats of the Finance Committee of amendments to the war tax measure led to the caucus call. President Wilson had indicated to the leaders that he would be ready for adjournment as soon as the Clayton bill, the war tax and the Alaska Coal leasing conference report had been consummated. Adjournment has tentatively been fixed for Oct. 15. The threat of Representative Henry of Texas, to continue indefinitely his filibuster against adjournment until cotton relief legislation is enacted, will, if carried out, prevent the carrying out of the agreement for recess and of the House to permit members to go to their home districts this week. Many of them, however, had already gone home, believing that Congress would shortly adjourn.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite
Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

POLICE NEWS

The police are investigating a break at the home of Mrs. Annie M. Greenough at 1490 Belmont street, which took place some time between Saturday afternoon and Monday. Considerable clothing and silver were missing from the house when Mrs. Greenough, who had been away over Sunday, returned. Entrance was made by forcing a window in the rear.

A man who has been keeping his children from school was brought in Tuesday on a suspended sentence.

Two street walkers both from Dover, were arrested Tuesday evening. One only twenty-three years old had served three terms at the County farm.

Arthur Jones, who was held for the Superior Court for breaking and entering, is thought by the police to be a man with a record. He has all the car marks and his works is that of a speak thief.

DRAGOON'S STORY OF INTERRUPTED BREAKFAST

Paris, October 7--The stream of wounded from the battlefields of the Marne and the Oureq is being directed past Paris to hospitals in the rear, for the obvious reason until it is quite certain that Paris will not have to defend herself against attack it would be unwise to fill the ample hospital accommodation of the capital.

In the American hospital only 56 of whose 500 beds are occupied. I came across a soldier of the 6th Dragoons, suffering from a bullet wound in the hip that he got at Compiègne. The night before the battle his squadron was on outpost duty. Some firing had been heard and he rode ahead of the squadron to see what was happening, believing that French cavalry were engaged with the Germans close at hand. He centered along a moonlit road until suddenly in the shadow of some trees he found himself in the midst of some German horsemen. He had his carbine across the neck of his horse, and fired point blank into the breast of a German trooper, with whose horse his own came into collision. The German was as quick with his weapon and both fell to the ground, the German dead, the British with a bullet through his hip. An instant later the squadron came up and caught the German detachment about thirty strong to pieces.

This British Dragoon has seen things which have given him a strong prejudice against the enemy. In a Belgian village he saw the yet warm corpse of a peasant woman who had been struck down by a Uhlans' lance. The Uhlans were riding out of the village as the British rode in, and the brute who did so, killed the woman because she could not or would not give him some bread.

Once on patrol duty he came across a stationary motor car. In it were three French officers and a lady, all dead, all sitting in the position in which they were when they died. A volley had been poured into the car. The lady's hand hand carelessly over the side of the car, and the fingers showed marks of rings which had been roughly stripped off.

Our cavalrymen were a good deal bothered by the enemy's aeroplanes during the retreat from Mons. Whenever a German aeroplane appeared a bivouac, the order was given to change camp, and weary men and horses had to move further on. One man told in a voice from which the bitterness had not yet passed of a breakfast lost in this way. The meal almost assumed the proportions of a feast. Two geese and three hens he and his mates had prepared for themselves, and just when they were ready to take them from the fire the enemy appeared in force, and the breakfast had not only to be abandoned, but to be abandoned to the Germans.

"Of all patients, the best say the doctors, are the Turks. There is no limit to the pain they can endure."

Yesterday afternoon the parade of two standards captured from the enemy was accepted by Parisians for the success of their armies.

The number of French prisoners serving with the Colours is a good deal larger than has been imagined, and it is stated authoritatively today that as many as 10,000 prisoners are enrolled as combatants. The departure of the Cardinal Archbishop of Malines from the Gare Street Lazare gave rise to a picturesque scene. The Archbishop was fully robed, and stood on the platform surrounded by a large crowd of priests and others who have sympathized keenly with the Belgians in their struggle. As the train left the station he stood bowing to those on the platform--an assent figure in the Richelieu type, a man of dominant personality, with a charm of pose and expression that made one realize how keenly his work is appreciated by his countrymen in Belgium.

The wastage of horses during the present war has admittedly been appalling. At the St. Lazare terminus today I met a general with some 200 now of the 11th French Dragoons. They had no horses left and had come to pick up some at present waiting in Paris. They were then taking an eastward bound train as far as Chateaufort. Their purpose was to harness the retreat of the Germans, who at this point in the fighting line are said to be utterly exhausted. Whole sections of them are being captured, helpless, after three sleepless nights. Even the sentries are asleep, and every man capable of doing so has crept into a barn or other shelter to get some rest.

The heroism displayed by the British troops is the subject of admiring

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 60-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Comments in the French papers. The Liberte, gives some striking examples--on one occasion the Germans in considerable force tried to enter a town occupied by British troops. One Scottish detachment was entrusted with the task of checking the advance of the Germans till the English troops succeeded in retreating in good order. They took up a position in the first houses of the town. The Germans directed a violent fire upon the houses which soon threatened to bury the defenders under their ruins. The German attack slackened and the Scots realized that the enemy were preparing to take up a better position. During the lull a Scottish sergeant who occupied a grocery discovered on the shelves several packets of chocolate, and turning to his men told them "I'll give a bar of chocolate to every man who kills a German." When the attack was resumed the sergeant gravely proceeded to distribute the promised reward.

The day after, the same regiment was occupying a trench, swept by violent artillery and rifle fire, when two privates noticed that a French man attached to the battalion as interpreter occupied the most exposed spot in the trench. One private said, "The Frenchman is badly placed; let's widen his trench" and during a minute paying no attention to the hail of bullets and shrapnel, the privates dug down the trench, and with the same calm resumed their places.

The correspondent adds that the bravery of the English is truly admirable. Although they had suffered terribly, the English had never flinched an instant when informed that one of their best units had just been annihilated. They remained silent for a few seconds and then answered with wonderful determination. "Never mind, one day we will have the best of it."

Selegny & Co. have selected Mary Keane to play the role of Nora in "Under Cover" which is to be presented at Portsmouth Theatre this evening.

Miss Keane is a young woman who has made her way on the stage by careful study. Players are often asked about how to get on the stage and how to succeed after they have managed to secure an engagement. It seems a question which is always being asked by folk outside the theatre. The inevitable question was put to Miss Keane during the run of "Under Cover" at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, U.

The Great Efficiency Car

(Engine and vehicle patented July 2, 1903)
FRANKLIN SIX-THIRTY FIVE-PASSENGER TOURING CAR,

VINCENT ASTOR BUYS ANOTHER FRANKLIN

This makes seven Franklins that Vincent Astor and his father, the late Colonel John Jacob Astor, have owned. In placing his order for this last car, Vincent Astor stated that the last Franklin he has been driving he has driven twice as much as any other car that he has owned. He has gotten an average of ten thousand miles on his tires and has never had any tire trouble on the road with the car in four years he has owned it. Likewise, in that time, the car has never left for a destination but what it has returned without trouble of any kind. Mr. Astor owns and has owned many different makes of foreign and American automobiles.

THE GASOLINE ECONOMY of the Franklin car was thoroughly established when 94 different stock Six-Thirty cars under official observation made an average of 32.8 miles on one gallon of gasoline on May 1, 1914.

THE COMFORT

of the Franklin is well known and easy to understand because of the four full elliptic springs, wood sill, small unsprung weight, and great flexibility.

FRANKLIN TIRE ECONOMY is a byword. 34x4 1/2 in. high efficiency tires (Goodrich Silverstone Cord or Goodyear Power Saver) carrying a weight of only 2750 lbs. is self explanatory.

A Real Automobile at a Reasonable Price.

WILLIAM HODGE CONTINUES

William Hodge is in the fifth week of his big business at the "Theatre," Boston, where "The Road to Happiness" is being traveled every night by a host of playgoers, and find that the play sends the money feeling better and looking brighter. The Wednesday matinee is a popular one and on Monday, October 12, there will be a special Columbus Day matinee.

Some of the sentiments expressed by Jim Whitman, village youth and optimist, the new character impersonated by Hodge in this piece, bear the same element of homely thought as did the sayings of Daniel Voorhees like, "The Man From Home."

"You can't fight trouble with tears; tears help trouble as water helps flowers," says Jim. "The only way to whip trouble is to smile at it, and if you can't sing, whistle. If you wear your heart aches, and if you smile it dances."

The title of the play comes from the lines expressed by Mr. Hodge as the young optimist, "Courage and honesty and truth--these form the road to happiness. If you have not the courage, borrow it."

At "one time" in the play when Jim Whitman (the part that Hodge plays) over every time her pet coughs, he says: "And then I have to recite Riley over again, and that reminds you that the play is made something after Riley's recipe:

"What you want, as I sense it, in the line
Of poetry is something young and Mild--
Something with livestock in it, and outdoors,
And old crack bottoms, snags and sycamores;
Put weeds in--puzzle vines and under-bush,
As well as Johnny-jump-ups, all so fresh,
And easy like--and ground squirrels,
yes, and
As saying is--"We, Us and Company!"

Portsmouth, N. H., Wednesday, October 7, 1914.

Fire Prevention Day.

Friday, October 9, will be Fire Prevention day, a day set apart for the teaching and study of the prevention of fires from which the country suffers seriously every year, and practically everyday in the year.

In some cities there will be exercises and demonstrations designed to arouse the interest of the public in the subject and to bring to the attention of men, women and children facts of value with reference to the prevention of fires. In New York city an elaborate program has been arranged, including a parade, the display of banners showing the danger and the losses of property and life by fires, the distribution of handbills bearing useful information, and other features calculated to arouse the public to a sense of the importance of the occasion and the lessons it is designed to teach.

Such a demonstration should be of profit to New York or any other community that may see fit to formally observe Fire Prevention day, but one fact to bear in mind is that the effectual study and practice of fire prevention cannot be confined to one day of the year. As constant as is the danger of fire, so constantly must we stand on guard against it if our work is to be effective. A burst of enthusiasm on the subject of fire prevention for one day, with excitement stimulated with banners and bands, and gross carelessness on the other 364 days of the year will do little toward the elimination of one of the gravest dangers which beset civilized communities.

Far too many people are altogether too careless with reference to the dangers of fire. The habit of throwing down lighted cigar and cigarette stubs is far too common, and not a few disastrous fires have come from that source. Matches are dropped before being fully extinguished in places where there should be the utmost care; forests are fired by thoughtless hunters and strollers; and the fact is that a large majority of fires, the causes of which in many cases are never ascertained, would be found due, if the truth were known, to sheer carelessness.

The formal observance of Fire Prevention day is all right so far as it goes. The thing to guard against is a feeling on the following day that it is "all over," like the Fourth of July or any other holiday, and that there is nothing more to be done till Fire Prevention day comes round again.

Lincoln Beachey's demonstration over Washington, D. C., recently, impressed many with the mighty value of the biplane in war, and this is just what the demonstration was made for. The fire eaters will expect Congress to act accordingly when a fat appropriation is asked for, and the danger is that it will do so. And yet there are those who are talking about the European conflict being the last great war, and about the beginning of an international movement for "disarmament by percentage!"

Chief Quilly of Springfield, Mass., declares that a "state of war" exists between the police department and violators of the automobile laws; and the court record for the last few days substantiates the assertion. There have been numerous accidents in the streets of that city and the chief is determined to halt the practice of reckless driving and overspeeding. Other cities as well as Springfield will find that the only relief from the dangers of reckless automobiling lies in a rigid enforcement of the laws.

The National Petroleum Company, with a capital of $20,000,000, and the Imperial Pipe Line Company, capitalized at $1,000,000, have just been incorporated in Canada and are understood to be subsidiaries of the Standard Oil Company, which has a large branch at Sarnia, where the headquarters of the two new companies will be. And there are no reports of undue worry in Canada over this development.

The democrats of the lower house of Congress make it known that they are in favor of giving independence to the Filipinos as soon as it is safe to do so, wherein they are in strict agreement with the people of the United States, regardless of partisan considerations. The difficult thing will be to determine just when this step will be safe. The prevalent opinion today is that the time has not yet arrived.

The Eiffel tower in Paris has been converted into a wireless telegraph station and should serve the purpose admirably. But who dreamed there would ever be such use for it when it was erected years ago as a feature of an international exposition?

The late R. W. Sears went "back to the soil" in 1895, but not until he had founded the great firm of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and made a fortune that enabled him to "farm it" successfully, regardless of the law of supply and demand.

One trouble of the Mexican leaders seems to be the fear that somebody else will become president.

All nature is now one vast bouquet.

German Guns Captured In France Will Be Exhibited In Various Cities In England.

Germany has been exhibiting guns and flags captured in battle to arouse patriotism in Berlin, and England is preparing to resort to the same tactics. Many pieces of German artillery captured in France have been shipped to England, where they will be hauled through the streets of London, Liverpool, Manchester and other cities to show that success is attending the British arms.

NEW CASTLE

The leafy month of June may claim the fairest day of all the year, but for gorgeous, sensuous beauty, when the enkindling finger of autumn has unloosed the leaves with flame, and at the close of day, when the wine-like light of the sunset dyes all the world in char, surely the Master Painter stands without a rival.

Mr. E. L. Smith of Portsmouth, Me., is making necessary improvements at Fort Point Light House.

Quite a number of Wallach Temple, Pythian Sisters, have attended the convention in Portsmouth this week.

Mrs. Della Austin, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Yeaton, has returned to her home in Hampton, Mass.

Mrs. Belle Reed is convalescing from her recent illness.

Mr. William Cotton has closed his summer residence and returned to Portsmouth.

Mrs. Grace Yeaton, after a short visit with Mrs. Annie Frost, has returned to her home in Rye.

Miss Mercedes White of Portland is visiting her parents at Fort Point.

One of the most interesting events of the week is the birth to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wingo of a promising little daughter, Anna is the name bestowed upon the new arrival.

Mrs. Mary Cuckley, after a short visit with her parents, has returned to her home in Portland.

Captain Lindsey has offered a most accommodating winter timetable to his patrons.

Mr. Frank Wilson, after a brief visit with Q. M. Sergt. Whitlock and family, has returned to his home in Franklin, N. H.

A large number from the Island town will witness the fascinating production of "Under Cover" at Music hall this evening.

Congratulations innumerable are being called forth by the birth of a sturdy little son to Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Barker. The event occurring several days ago at their home in Washington, D. C. in compliance to his maternal grandfather the baby has been named William Haywood Barker.

WILL SPEAK IN DOVER

Major Edward J. Gallagher of Concord, state president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, has accepted an invitation to address an open air meeting of the order at Dover on Sunday, October 25th.

"UNDER COVER"

Robt Cooper Megrue, whose play "Under Cover," will be presented by Selwyn & Co., at Portsmouth Theatre, Wednesday evening, is quite sure that the public has been faithful to melodrama through all the ups and downs in play taste. As "Under Cover" itself is a melodrama and Mr. Megrue has been busy buying bonds with his royalties ever since it was produced he has a tangible reason for his belief.

"Public taste in matters of theatrical entertainment," said Mr. Megrue, while the play was in Boston, "changes about every seven years. When you think you have the public properly set for a long and unbroken patronage of this or that kind of play, you suddenly realize that the door public is slipping away from you and giving its attention to some other style of drama. This means, of course that you cannot keep public taste forever centered upon force or the problem play, and that even the greatly over-produced musical play is not able to hold its own against the uncertainty of dramatic favor."

"But Melodrama," and Mr. Megrue spoke with a certainty enhanced by visions of those bonds with many coupons, "melodrama goes right on in one form or another and the public never wavers in its loyalty. There never was a time when good melodrama could not stand on its legs in the face of all competition. Melodrama is the basis of all theatrical entertainment and it would indeed be a deadly thing for the theatre of the country if, even in dull times, a wan interest in that style of play should overtake us."

"If you will look back with me, I think you will see that good melodrama was never out of the race for patronage—a new thrill always has friends in the front of the house to applaud it. The crook plays, which have so lately attracted attention will in time pass on and some other form of melodrama will take its place. But while farce and problem plays move around in cycles, you may rest assured that melodrama will always be among those present."

Then Mr. Megrue received from the office boy an important looking communication bearing the mark of "Belywn & Co." and opening it showed on a check for his most recent royalties, whereupon he remarked "And this goes to prove it." Then, presumably he put in an order for another bond.

SIDELIGHTS ON THE WAR

Brief Items Relating to Incidental Effects in Many Countries.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food elements. In changing seasons foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's richest food, so skillfully prepared that the blood profits from every drop, and it is free from harmful drugs or alcohol.

OBITUARY

Joseph H. Cullis

Joseph H. Cullis, aged 54, died at his home in Belmont on Tuesday of heart trouble after an illness of ten months.

He was born and educated in Charlestown. He entered the Custom House brokerage office of the Store & Downer Company in the Board of Trade building and remained there thirty years until his last illness.

He was past master of Belmont Lodge of Masons, member of the Everett Lodge of Elks and was an Odd Fellow.

He married Miss Celia A. Blaisdell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Blaisdell of this city on May 4, 1886, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. H. Alden, D. D., Pastor of the Middle Street Baptist church. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Gibbs, with whom he resided.

FORT MCKINLEY AND NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE PLAY TIE GAME

Fort McKinley held New Hampshire College 0 to 0 at Durham on Tuesday. Fort McKinley received the kickoff and went down the field for 50 yards, but failed in an attempt at a field goal.

After this the play was very even, although New Hampshire appeared to have the edge. New Hampshire's backfield played a fine game and made some good gains through Fort McKinley's heavy line, but this was offset by blunders of the linemen.

PERSONALS

Norman H. Beane passed Tuesday in Boston.

William Ashe is to occupy the Sumner house on Broad street.

Miss Maud Sims of Concord is the guest of relatives in this city.

Mrs. George H. Ducker of Gates street has returned home after a month's visit with friends in the White Mountains.

STATE TEACHER'S CONVENTION

Some over a thousand school teachers will be here at the State Teachers Convention on October 23 and 24. It will be one of the biggest conventions held in years.

TO PLAY PORTLAND HIGH

The high school foot ball team will play the Portland high on Monday, Columbus Day, at Portland, and a good game is expected. Portland is a strong proposition for the locals to go up against so early in the season and the boys expect a hard battle. Coach McPheters has the boys at daily practice and they will be in good condition by Monday.

NOTICE

The Navy Yard Officer's dance is postponed until Wednesday, Oct. 14. C 11 07.

On the charge of being common scolds, the penalty for which is a ducking in a stream of running water, according to an old Maryland statute, a mother and daughter were recently arrested in a little town in that state.

BRIDE-TO-BE KILLED BY TRAIN

Returning from an automobile trip with the man she was shortly to have wed, Miss Blanche Rand of Canaan was instantly killed at Dyer's Crossing, Andover, N. H., Tuesday evening, when the touring car, in which she was riding with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Rand was struck by a southbound freight. Miss Rand laid both legs and two bones by her wrist broken, and at the Franklin hospital where she was taken, her life was considered in great danger. Her husband escaped with cuts and bruises.

Dr. Murray Towle of Manchester, the fiancé of the dead young woman, had been visiting the Rands in their Canaan home for several days. Tuesday he had to leave and it was arranged to see him home in the car. On reaching Manchester the young couple bade each other a gay good by, and the Rands started for home.

At Dyer's Crossing, the road takes a curve across the tracks of the Concord division to the Boston & Maine. Mr. Rand apparently did not see the approaching freight train. It too late to stop, and then tried to get across in time.

The engine struck the rear seat in which the two women were riding. Miss Rand was tossed as high as the smokestack of the engine by the terrific impact, the trainmen say. She landed thirty feet away and her neck was broken. Her mother was also shot in a high curve a distance of 20 feet. The rear of the car was smashed to bits.

The victim of the accident was a graduate of St. Mary's school in Concord. She was 28 years old.

EDITH THAYER SCORES AS STAR OF THE FIREFLY

Petite and dainty Edith Thayer came to us as the star of The Firefly at the Court Square Theatre last evening as a stranger; but her name and her work will be remembered and we shall be quite eager to renew her acquaintance again. It was no small task for a hitherto unheard of singer to step into the shoes of an international celebrity like Emma Trentini, but judging by her work last evening, Miss Thayer had more than the courage to command her. Current reports in theatrical circles are to the effect that Miss Thayer's tour in The Firefly last season made a barrel of money for her managers while the Trentini tour was far from a financial success. Be that as it may, as that favorite squash pie comedian, George W. Munroe would say, Miss Thayer came to us last evening for the first time and made good in substantial fashion. We did not even regret the temperamental Trentini. On the contrary we were pleased in large measure with the singing, acting, and appearance of the daily little star.—Springfield, Mass.

The draw in the Portsmouth bridge is 37 feet wide, but on Monday the schooner Isabel B. Wiley with a beam of 37 feet, 3 inches was squeezed through by cutting away portions of a stringer with an axe. The Wiley is of 611 tons and is the largest sailing vessel ever to pass above the bridge up to date. On Tuesday, however, the four master F. and T. Lupton arrived in the lower harbor with a cargo of lumber consigned to the McElwain Company and as her beam is around 40 feet the matter of getting her up river to the McElwain plant would appear to present certain difficulties which are up to the Boston and Maine to overcome.

Arrived—Schooner Olla Miller, British, Boston for Batonville, N. S.

Schooner Omaha, Gardiner, Me., for Boston.

Schooner P. and T. Lupton from Liverpool, N. S.

The funeral of Harry Williams occurred at the First Christian church on Tuesday afternoon, and the ancient edifice was filled to its full capacity. Services were conducted by Rev. Winifred Coffin, Albert Sprague of Kittery feelingly rendered several musical selections. The number and beauty of the floral tributes eloquently testified to the esteem in which the young man was held in the community. The pall bearers were Charles Lewis, Leon Coffin, John Tobey, Private Boyer, U. S. A., and Alden Phillips. Interment took place in the church cemetery under the direction of G. W. Ham.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Mudge of Newfields, N. H., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. B. Williams.

Mrs. Cooper of Stratham, N. H., was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Whitaker of Fall River, Mass., attended the funeral of Harry Williams on Tuesday.

LARGE ENROLMENT AT EXETER

Exeter, N. H., October 7.—Official figures of registration at Phillips Exeter have just been published and show an enrolment of four more students than at the corresponding time last year. The total is 561. There are representatives from 41 states and from five foreign countries.

Many of the faculty and students are training for places in the chorus, which is a part of the musical programme to be carried out in connection with the musical clubs. Last year the chorus was well attended.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

The U. S. Civil Service Commission will hold the quarterly examination on January 2, 1915, for filling vacancies in the following mechanical, trades and non-educational positions as they may occur in the Light House Service Engineer Department at large Quartermaster Corps, U. S. A., and other branches of the Government.

An Opportunity for Household Economy

The great advance in price of cream of tartar—which is derived from grapes—due to inability to care for and market the grape crop in the European countries now at war, can be made advantageous to the housewives of New England.

Housekeepers will find it more economical and much more satisfactory to use Royal Baking Powder, which is made from highly refined, pure cream of tartar. First, because the price of Royal has not been changed and it will do perfect work; second, because food made with Royal Baking Powder will be finer and more palatable; and finally, because it insures the absence of all danger from alum or similar unwholesome products.

The old-fashioned custom of buying cream of tartar and mixing it with soda, or using sour milk, may be discarded with profit. The high cost and scarcity of cream of tartar furnishes a temptation to unscrupulous dealers to substitute an adulterated product, which may be either lime phosphates or alum, that will change the baking strength and may spoil the food.

RUSSIANS PURSUE FLEEING GERMANS

Capture Many Cannons Left in Haste --German Loss Reported at 70,000.

Petrograd, Oct. 6.—The Russian armies in pursuit of the Germans who have been driven from the Niemen river region are now threatening the Germans on their front and flank. The Germans are reported here to be abandoning their fortified positions along the border inside of the East Prussian frontier. Russian forces, however, are moving to flank them from the south.

The estimates of the German casualties in the week that extended well down into Russian Poland continue to grow. They are now placed at 70,000. In addition the Russians have captured a large number of German cannon which became mired in the retreat and were abandoned.

The Russian advance into Galicia and that of the Cossack divisions into Hungary continue. The movement against Cracow is seriously interfered with by torrential rains and the destruction of all river bridges by the Austrians, but it is slowly progressing.

Claim Russian Reverses

London, Oct. 6.—An official statement issued today at Vienna says the situation in Russian Poland and Galicia is favorable, according to a Russian dispatch from the Austrian capital by way of Amsterdam.

"The combined German and Austrian armies," it is officially announced, "have formed the enemy from Opotow and Kilmontow toward the Vistula river."

"In the Carpathian mountains the Russians have been completely beaten at Uzsok pass."

RAILROAD GIVEN A HEARING

Boston, Oct. 6.—A public hearing on the question of higher rates on mileage books was given this morning by the Public Service Commission.

The petitioners for an increase, raising the rate from two cents to 2 1/2 cents per mile, are the Boston and Maine, the Boston & Albany, the New York, New Haven & Hartford, and the Central Vermont railroads.

All the commissioners were present and all the railroads were represented by counsel and traffic officials. There were only five or six other persons present.

The railroads were called upon first by Chairman Macleod to give their reasons for wanting to increase the rates, and, by general consent, the case of the Boston & Maine was taken up first. Edgar J. Rich, general solicitor, called as his first witness William J. Hobbs, vice president in charge of finance of the Boston and Maine. As basic figures in support of the petition Mr. Hobbs testified, under oath, that the income of the company is not high enough to meet the expenses. He said that the net corporate income for the year ending June 30, 1913, was $40,000. That was the amount available at the end of that year for dividends. At the end of the next year, however, the year ending June 30, 1914, there was a corporate loss instead, amounting to $2,044,742. That means that the company lacked that amount in being able to meet its obligations for the year. During July and August of the present year it is $36,022 short in the amount needed to pay charges.

The explanation given by the critics for the great activity of the Germans is that they have discovered they cannot keep the spirits of their men up by a defensive campaign. So they are banking everything on a series of blows at the points of the battle line that their military aviators have decided are the weakest. It is known that there have been withdrawals from certain points on the allied left to move the troops into the territory just south of the Belgian frontier. These withdrawals naturally must have been reported to Von Kluck and Von Boehm, who have taken advantage of them.

Barr Army and Navy Men as Commerce Attaches

Washington, October 6.—Attorney General Gregory has decided that Lieut. Commander Carlos A. Gardiner, U. S. N., retired, Brookline, is not eligible to appointment as a commercial attaché under the department of commerce. The obstacle is the statute which prevents an army or navy officer from accepting a position with pay under the government.

The decision is a general one and will have wide application. It had been awaited with eagerness by officers who had hoped to be allowed to enter this field. Commander Gardiner had offered to sacrifice part of his pay as a retired officer during employment as attaché in still, had his appointment been made.

Many ill come from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lax liver and sluggish bowels. Burdock Blood Purifiers is recommended for strengthening stomach, bowels and liver and purifying the blood.

BOTH SIDES MAKE CONFLICTING CLAIMS

Berlin, Oct. 6. (By wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—An order of the day written by Gen. von Lortzen, published officially today, says that Port Camp des Romains, on the river Meuse, near St. Mihiel after a number of hard fights, has been taken by the Germans. Five French officers and more than 500 men were made prisoners. The remainder of the French force perished in the ruins of the camp.

London, Oct. 6.—The admission that the Germans have again taken the offensive on the east and west wings of the battle line in France is causing some apprehension here that the government may be holding back important news. This continues in the face of denials by headquarters, which maintains that whatever ground was yielded will be regained when the reinforcements now being moved reach their new positions.

The explanation given by the critics for the great activity of the Germans is that they have discovered they cannot keep the spirits of their men up by a defensive campaign. So they are banking everything on a series of blows at the points of the battle line that their military aviators have decided are the weakest.

It is known that there have been withdrawals from certain points on the allied left to move the troops into the territory just south of the Belgian frontier. These withdrawals naturally must have been reported to Von Kluck and Von Boehm, who have taken advantage of them.

Fresh Levies Arriving

It is stated there that the situation is constantly improving. The fresh levies that are constantly reaching the battle line gives an enormous advantage to the allies, who have not been forced to withdraw a single regiment from the center. And the general movement to the north presages, it is believed, the early relief of Brussels and Antwerp.

Meanwhile military circles are discussing the reported change in the German general staff. While there is no official confirmation of the report sent by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Standard that Field Marshal von Moltke has been superseded as chief of staff by the comparatively unknown Maj. Gen. Voigt-Rheitz, it is generally accepted here as true.

Von Moltke has never been a striking success, even at maneuvers, and it has been reported several times that his religious beliefs have been severely criticized by his fellow-staff members. But the chief complaint, it is believed here, was that he refused to sanction certain spectacular campaign plans on which the Kaiser had set his heart and that as a result he was relegated to the rear.

Gen. Voigt-Rheitz is an unknown quantity in military circles, and no one here is in position to ascertain the reason for his selection, if true.

Developing New Move

Paris, Oct. 6.—The re-enforced German line continues its efforts to break through the encircling movement of the allies. It has gained slightly at new points, only to be thrust back violently at others.

It is officially announced this morning that the fighting continues with unabated vigor, but at no point has the allied left been penetrated. The general banking movement continues to be extended northward, while fresh troops are being sent into action at the points on the line where the great German pressure is apparent.

The Germans are also endeavoring to develop a new offensive on the right of the French centre in the Argonne and also along the Meuse. They are carrying on practically continuous night and day attacks in these sections, but according to the reports received here they are sacrificing many men without gaining advantage.

Meanwhile they have denuded their centre lines to aid in these movements. They can safely do this, however, because of the natural strength of their positions, which would require the sacrifice of many thousands of men if assaulted in a frontal attack, and which are admitted by the French commanders in the field to be absolutely impregnable.

German Guns are Worn Out.

It has been learned here that the shelling of the German artillery fire on the right was due primarily to their guns being worn out through too much use. While fresh pieces were being brought up from the reserve bases at Cologne and at Aix-la-Chapelle, the infantry was called upon to prevent the knowledge of any shortage becoming known to the allied generals, and so successful were the Germans that it was necessary for the allies to withdraw for short distances to more protected positions.

The scenes of suffering among the wounded have so worked on the nerves of the non-combatants that as far as possible the trains carrying those invalids are moved under cover of darkness. This also has the added advantage of preventing any knowledge of the extent of the casualties being learned by the enemy's air scouts, who are extremely active, despite heavy losses.

The sufferings of the wounded are indescribable. Because of the constant fighting it is impossible for the Red Cross in a systematic manner to gather those who cannot reach the rear themselves. In consequence many who might otherwise have saved themselves where they fall, until they bleed to death. Many others go insane from their sufferings, and the wild screams of some of those on the hospital trains are simply blood-curdling as they pass through to the hospital camps.

"Advancing" Says Berlin
Berlin, Oct. 6.—The official war bulletin issued today contained but few additional facts over yesterday's contribution.

"The offensive of the German troops on both wings of the battle line in France continues," it said, "and we are pushing forward slowly and in perfect order. We now occupy the former positions of the allies on the western front, but the fighting continues with no let up. Under our overwhelming pressure on both wings we have compelled the enemy to take up less advantageous positions."

"In the eastern theatre of war we continue our offensive unchecked. The general battle has not materialized, although there is constant skirmishing, much of it in force."

"Advances from Vienna say that Przemyśl defies all efforts of the Russians to take it and that the Russian forward movement in Galicia has been checked."

Says French Hold Alsace
London, Oct. 6.—Telegraphing from Bedford, France, the correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The Germans are trying to make the world believe that they still hold Alsace, but as a matter of fact the French are there in thousands and so well established that the enemy has not dared to attack them."

"There is nothing in front of the French force of occupation. If they wish they can walk right through to the Rhine."

Belgians Claim to Be Still Safe
Antwerp, Oct. 6.—Only the military forces actively engaged in the defence of Antwerp are now permitted to go to the front. Because of the danger of German spies, no persons are permitted to occupy the spires of the churches or the roofs of the tall buildings.

The bombardment of the southern and eastern chain of forts continues without interval, day and night. Rumors are current that some of the forts have been badly damaged, but the war office declares the resistance is well maintained. The official statement issued today, said:

"The Germans continue their bombardment of the outer ring of forts. They have utterly failed, however, in their attempts to gain a foothold at any point. In a series of sorties the garrison has inflicted great damage on the enemy, who has now abandoned all efforts to carry our positions by storm. Every single fort or redoubt is holding out."

Urgent Call for Help
Despite this optimistic declaration, however, it is known that the pressure is becoming so serious that urgent messages have been sent to the British and French general staffs, asking that immediate steps be taken to force the Germans to raise their siege.

It is felt that Belgium has sacrificed enough in trying to check Germany by her own efforts and that the allies can now spare enough fresh troops to undertake a flanking movement in force from the west coast, which would compel the Germans to evacuate Brussels and to lift the siege of Antwerp.

Many Residents Leaving
Meanwhile many residents have left Antwerp for places of refuge in Holland and England. So far as possible all of the vessels leaving, including even the fishing boats, are carrying non-combatants to neutral territory. It is explained, however, that this movement is entirely precautionary.

"TODAY" AT THE MAJESTIC

Woman's love of luxury and personal adornment and the craze for vulgar display and outdoing one's neighbor form the foundation upon which is built "Today," the vital and vivid drama of New York life, by George Broadhurst and Abraham Schomer who will open its engagement at the Majestic Theatre, Columbus Day with a special matinee performance.

"Today" has to do with the fortunes and misfortunes of a young married couple after the husband has suddenly been stripped of his possessions by business reverses. The wife's failure or inability to adapt herself to their reduced circumstances results in the developing of a story that is best described as an intensely human document as true as it is human, and one which commanded the attention and aroused the interest of hundreds of thousands of theatregoers during his long engagement on Broadway.

The company which Manager Harry Von Tilzer has selected is one of superb strength, including a trio of stars in Edmund Breese, Marie Walworth and Madame Mathilde Cottrelly. Ethel Valentine the young western woman who became a leading lady on Broadway over night, Teresa Maxwell Conover and Bernard Reinold are among the members of the company whose attainments have attracted attention and admiration.

"Today" comes here enjoying the enviable reputation of having been the drama longest on the boards in New York during the theatrical year 1913-14. It is not a white slave play, nor is it a red light drama, but it does discuss graphically and dramatically the feminine desire for luxury and its acquisition, and discloses in no uncertain way the dangers attending thereon.

MET STATE BOARD
The selection of Met, Kittery and York were called to Bedford on Tuesday where they met the Maine State assessors relative to valuations.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, get this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear. Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

WITHERING DEATH OF FRENCH FIELD GUNS

London, October 6.—At the outset of the terrible European war, French writers commenting on the probable fate of the Germans, had much to say of the great secret of France as a factor in the struggle. Time and again stories emanating from Paris mentioned the "great secret" and the mystery by which their country was to strike down the German hosts.

Not once has there been given an inkling of the nature of the great secret, but a London correspondent writing from Dieppe, after a visit to the battle fields along the Marne, believes that he has found it in the three inch field guns used by the French, which according to the stories, paralyze the Germans as they stand, killing them apparently without wounding them and leaving them much as were left the victims of the great volcanic tragedies of Heracleum and Pompeii.

"A writer says: 'A visit to the battle field of the Marne shows the devastating power of the French three inch field gun to be something of which we hitherto had not dreamed. Entire sections and companies of German troops had been struck as if by simultaneous thunderbolts, reminding one of nothing so much as the wholesale extinctions of the populations of Heracleum and Pompeii. Such an account sounds mysterious. Were the Germans killed where they stood by violent and overpowering poisonous fumes? Is that the "Great Secret"? Continuing, the correspondent says:

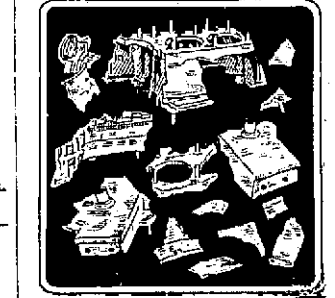

"On the borders of one of the forests a company of Prussian Infantry at bivouac is laid out as if it was surprised by the fire. The sentries are still grasping their rifles and a little way off a messenger lies by himself.

"Further on an officer lies a few yards from his men, who are stretched out with loosened belts and lying in their blankets. Two of them still hold playing cards in their hands. "These sleeping and those who were awake when they died evidently were swept out of life together without apparently having had time to move."

The same thing is noticeable on other battlefields in France say various writers, but not one of them has made any attempt to explain the matter. Evidently when the French talked about their "great secret" they had in mind something worth talking about. In the mysterious withering death of their three inch field guns is the secret. Apparently the results, and the comments of observers would indicate as much.

The Germans, according to all accounts have been killed in some way other than by bullets or fragments of shells. They have been smothered to death evidently by powerful concussion, or have been asphyxiated by powerful deadly gas.

"Recording further instances of apparently mysterious deaths among the Germans, the correspondent says: "Even more extraordinary is another group of sixty dead lying about a small haystack as if in sleep, their rifles stacked and their knapsacks arranged in orderly heaps.

"In the outer ring of the path of the shells can be traced in a direct line by heaps of bodies, but the particular shell that killed these sixty, struck them in front, from behind and at the sides with the same sudden death and yet none of them bears any outward wound. That they are lying downward or staring up at the sky, seemingly paralyzed by the mere force of the explosion.

"The same mysterious results were seen in many of the trenches where Germans were killed in rows. The German army to the east and north of Rheims was stated to be strongly entrenched in deep cuttings, with bomb-proof shelters and rest houses underground and very shallow ones were found at Metz, behind the Ourcq. One of these was a mile and a quarter long with tunnels in all directions yet it was filled with dead.

Along the whole length of the battle line, according to all the stories of French artillerymen, Germans never were able to stand by before the fire of the French guns whenever it found them out, but literally as soon as a French battery opened, a hasty retreat was quickly followed by heavy bombardment by big calibre German artillery far out of range.

"That the Germans are beginning to feel discouraged is gathered from letters asked and statements made by officers and prisoners. A lieutenant of the Twenty-Sixth Artillery Regiment writes, the Tenth Corps has been fighting incessantly since the beginning of the campaign. Almost all our horses were gone. We had been under fire from 5 a. m. to 8 p. m. without food or drink. The French Eighth Artillery was terrific. I am so worn out that I can hardly sit on a horse even at a walk. Even at night four men cannot rest. A French officer in a straight threw four bombs which killed and wounded twenty horses and four men. We get no letters.

"An officer of the Prussian Guard says: 'My regiment started with 60 officers and only 5 are left out of more than 2000 men. The regiment is a mere relic.'

RUSTEM—HE GOES; HE GOES NOT

He Engages Passage to Europe; He Cancels; Engages, Cancels; and Now the Consul in New York Has Lost Him.

New York, Oct. 6.—The whereabouts of A. Rustem, Bey, Turkish ambassador to the United States, and his plans for returning to Europe caused considerable speculation today at the office of the Turkish consul general here. Rustem Bey came to this city last Saturday from Washington with the announced intention of taking a boat for Europe, but at noon today the consul general said he did not know his whereabouts and no accommodations had been reserved for him on any outgoing steamer.

Rustem Bey engaged passage on the Sant Anna for Naples yesterday. The Sant Anna was due to sail this afternoon. Later in the afternoon the Turkish ambassador returned to the steamship office and cancelled his booking. Still later in the day Rustem Bey came back for the third time and reengaged passage. This morning he cancelled his passage again. On his visit to the steamship office he was accompanied by A. McAllister Smith, who said that he expected to accompany the Turkish ambassador on the trip. Mr. Smith was staying at the Harvard Club but could not be reached this forenoon.

ANIMALS BEFORE CHILDREN

Societies for Protection of One Increase as Those to Help the Other Grow Fatter.

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 6.—Human societies for the care of children have decreased in number during the past year from 313 to 307, while societies devoted to the protection of animals have increased from 189 to 191, according to reports submitted yesterday at the opening of the annual convention of the American Humane Association. The number of children cared for by the societies last year was 191,964, as compared to 177,747 during the previous year. The number of animals that received attention by the societies devoted to them increased from 2,539,186 to 2,845,707.

G. A. J. Scott, secretary of the Illinois Humane Society, deplored the fact that many organizations for the welfare of children are inactive while the 3 that specialize in the protection of animals are energetic in securing the enforcement of the laws.

During the discussion of a paper on "Have Societies for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Outlived Their Usefulness?" President Stillman declared that "political influences are being exerted against us whenever we conflict with the powerful forces using children in mills and factories."

FLYING STRANGE FLAG

U. S. Ship Executive Steams Into Newburyport.

A craft arrived in Newburyport Monday, the United States ship "Executive," flying a flag in company with the stars and stripes rarely seen here.

On the banner was the emblem of a castle placed on a dark red field. It was the flag of the engineering department of the U. S. Government. The craft under the command of Capt. Orellana was a steam lighter, and came to take back to Boston the apparatus used in boring operations in the river bed, from Newburyport to Haverhill. The outfit was loaded on the lighter by a gang of men in the government employ, and will be conveyed to Lovell's island in Boston harbor, where it will be stored.

Engineer Henry Warren, who had charge of the boring operations in the Merrimack river from the latter part of April until the middle of September, stated that the boring work was ended for the present, at least.

Apparently all the money available for the purpose has been expended and it will be necessary to secure a further appropriation before any new work is undertaken here. The "Executive" is moored near Collin's wharf.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

Durham, N. H., October 6th.—Wendell P. Davis has been appointed to take care of the cow test association work for the state experiment station. There are four of these organizations now in operation and four more are about to be launched.

Mr. Davis is a graduate of New Hampshire in the two year course in agriculture and has also taken special course work here. He has had experience in cow test work, having organized the association in the Ammonoosuc Valley.

The new associations are to be, one for Colebrook and Columbia; one for Haverhill and one for the southeast part of Rockingham county. The fourth is for Whitefield and is to be taken from the Jefferson association.

The state leader for the county agricultural agents is to be J. B. Abbott, of the University of Vermont. Mr. Abbott also studied at Tufts and took charge of co-operative demonstration work for Purdue University in Indiana. Mr. Abbott will have his headquarters in Durham and will visit the county agents and will organize new counties.

P. S. Manter of Manchester has been elected president of the Junior Class of New Hampshire College. Mr. Manter won on the second ballot over E. L. Blake of Durham and W. T. Tapley of Rye, Mass. Miss G. A. J. Charbonneau of Nashua was the choice for vice president, and S. G. Johnson of Winchester for secretary. The final office to be filled was that of a class treasurer and L. A. Hawkins of Campton was elected.

TEAM MATCH AT COUNTRY CLUB

The annual team match at the Country Club will be played on Saturday afternoon, and about thirty are expected to start, fifteen on a side. J. Edward Pickering is captain of the Reds and Joseph P. Conner of the Blues. The match will be followed by a beefsteak supper served by Chef Percy Kelley at the club house.

BIDS FOR NEW BATTLESHIPS OPENED

Washington, Oct. 6.—The Newport News, Va., Shipbuilding Company at $7,115,000 and the New York Shipbuilding Company at $7,175,000, were the two lowest bidders today for the construction of the two 32,000-ton battleships to be built for the navy this year. As each concern bid for the one ship only each will receive the contract. The other bidders were the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation of Quincy, Mass., at $7,440,000 and the Cramp Shipbuilding Company of Philadelphia at $7,025,000.

The two battleships are of the group comprising numbers 40, 41 and 42 already named by Secretary Daniels as the California, Mississippi and Idaho, one of them will be constructed at a Government navy yard yet to be determined.

These vessels will be the largest yet designed for the United States navy, each having a displacement of 32,000 tons. They will have three masts; length between perpendiculars, 400 feet; breadth extreme, 97 feet, 4 1/2 inches; draught, 30 feet; speed, 21 knots. The main batteries will consist of twelve 14-inch guns and four submerged submarine tubes, while the torpedo defence battery will consist of 22 5-inch rapid fire guns.

The vessels will be heavily armored and will be propelled by turbines. They will be fitted with oil burning boilers of the water tube type. The Mississippi and Idaho are so christened in order that the names of these states may be preserved in vessels of the fleet, the previous ships of those names having been sold to Greece last summer. Two of the newest three battleships were provided for in the last naval appropriation bill, while the third will be constructed out of the proceeds of the sale of the old Mississippi and Idaho.

ARMAMENT INTEREST BLAMED FOR THIS WAR

Rosalindale Pastor Calls for Removal of Real Cause of European Conflict.

"War shall not cease by reason of men's prayer, but by their active effort to discover its real cause and its only cure," said Rev. Charles W. Cannon, in the Rosalindale Unitarian Church yesterday.

"Prayer may increase the desire for peace, but that desire needs to be directed by intelligent economic thinking.

"The war spirit in Europe was deliberately fanned into a flame by the armament interests. It is an authenticated fact that the gunmakers of Germany last year spent large sums in publishing articles in the French press to inflame the fear and hatred of France against Germany. They are today receiving their profit on the investment from the ghastly wine-press of northern France.

"Yet there are today 269 clergymen in Great Britain, who are stockholders in one armament company alone, and who doubtless are at present beseeching Heaven with prayers for peace, if they are not asking victory for their own output in death-dealing steel.

"Let those who weakly pray for peace look for the deeper cause, and had it not in the depravity of the many but in the selfish greed of the few. It will be found that the hand that is striking down the deluded peasants of Europe is slaying its thousands in American slums, and that the horrors of both peace and war come from a common cause."

THE VOICES OF THE WOMEN

Every woman in the civilized world, today, is face to face with an unusual opportunity. The influence of the women should be cast as a unit in favor of the demand for disarmament, and it is their especial work at this time, to impress upon men the utter horror and monstrosity of war. Yet, until disarmament comes, we shall have wars, in every generation. No woman loves or wants war. All have viewed its coming with utter loathing. Yet many brave women have borne the burden uncomplainingly, for the very reason that there seemed to be no escape from it. Now, at last, there is an opportunity to impress upon all governments the insistent demand of humanity that wars shall cease, and that reason shall take the place of violence in the settlement of all international quarrels. Woman does not need the vote, necessarily, to make her influence compelling, in this matter. The protest of all the women of the civilized world would be irresistible.

Will Inspect Yard

Secretary Daniels of the Navy who speaks in this city on October 24th, has planned to inspect the yard on that date.

Work Goes On Just the Same

The fact that the U. S. S. Duquesne has been placed in reserve, will not in any way interfere with the work and repairs planned on the vessel.

New Surgeon Ordered Here

Asst. Surgeon R. M. Watershouse of the Marine Recruiting Corps, has been ordered here for duty at the naval hospital.

More Machinists Called

Fifteen machinists for duty in the machinery division were called by the labor board today.

Plenty of Work Ahead

The sub-surface crew that concludes work in the department of public works on Saturday next will later take up the same work at the Norfolk yard. The next duty will be at Washington yard.

NO BIDS RECEIVED FOR THE BONDS

No proposals for the $57,000 four per cent coupon refunding bonds were received at City Hall up to 11 o'clock this forenoon, the appointed hour for the opening of the same. No action was taken by the mayor and treasurer and the matter still remains open under a previous circular issued by the mayor and city treasurer.

POLICE COURT.

Ma Ryline and Mamie Pinkham of Dover have been here for several days renewing old acquaintances, and met with hearty welcomes and consecutive receptions in their old haunts. They were obliged to cut it short at the North End when the police hooped them and booked both for street walking. They pleaded guilty.

and asked for a chance to escape. The court gave it to them after imposing two months and costs on Miss Ryline, and six months and same costs on Miss Pinkham, which was suspended providing they don't come back and flirt with the sailor boys.

THE HERALD HEARS

That a choice sensation has indications of breaking loose.

That Chestnut street is to be better lighted.

That the Boston and Maine painters with any spare time on their hands should apply the brush to the electric trolley poles on Middle street.

That Secretary of the Navy Daniels speaks in Manchester on October 23.

That the administration is going to make a fight to elect Raymond B. Stevens as senator.

That the Democrats are sending three cabinet members and three U. S. senators to New Hampshire to help do it.

That it will be some job to beat out Hon. Jacob H. Gallinger.

That he is certain of a good vote in Portsmouth.

That Portsmouth has had some important conventions during the past two months.

That a little more activity on the part of our organizations would give us many more of these important gatherings.

That several local horsemen are at the Acton Fair.

That something should be done with the paving on Ceres street to keep horses from falling.

That hardly a day passes when three or four do not fall trying to move a load up over the grade there.

A full house was booked at the police headquarters on Tuesday night.

That the chilly weather drove in several lodgers.

That a door key has been the source of much trouble to a young lady at the South End, of late.

That the inmates of her home are about to declare themselves against the noise of the doorbell every night when the key is on the inside.

That she is now carrying the key tied around her neck.

That the state board of assessors are resting quietly at present.

That there is some strange political gossip going the rounds in Ward 3.

That it looks as if something will be pulled off there in the form of a surprise.

MUST USE CARE IN PARCEL POST

Strict orders for the exercise of greater care in the handling of parcel post mail matter by postal employees were issued by Postmaster General Burleson yesterday. Employees are warned that they will be held responsible for any damage resulting to the mails for which they are responsible.

The orders were issued as a result of numerous complaints to the department of the receipt of parcels in bad condition.
